Approved For Release 1999/09/02 : CIA-RDP79-01206A000200[redacted]

[redacted]

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

25X1C

9 February 1953

25X1C

[redacted]

25X1C

My calendar tells me that you should be returning about now from your sojourn at the [redacted] I trust you found your visit a stimulating experience and the rigors not beyond your endurance.

25X1X7

Though I shall shortly leave this position to become Mr. Becker's Assistant, I am still very much interested in visiting with you [redacted] and comparing notes on our common programs. I wonder how it would strike you if I were to suggest I arrive in [redacted] on Wednesday morning, 25 March, and remain with you until mid-afternoon on Thursday. That will enable me, among other things, to tie in [redacted] with my wife and boy whose spring holiday starts at that time.

25X1X7

25X1C

25X1C

25X1C

25X1C

I appreciated very much your thoughtful comments on our program. As you probably know, we do very little work on the economies of the free world, but we do have in mind a series of studies on the comparative growth of Western and Soviet economic blocs over the next few years. I hope I shall have some specific material on this to discuss with you when I come.

25X1C8c

Your [redacted] has arrived but was struck down by the flu before I had a chance to greet him. I trust he will recover shortly and will find his stay down here worthwhile.

Sincerely yours,

Robert Amory, Jr.
Assistant Director

DOCUMENT NO. 5
NO CHANGE IN CLASS. ☐
☐ DECLASSIFIED
CLASS. CHANGED TO: TS S © 1985
NEXT REVIEW DATE:
AUTH: [illegible]
DATE. 12-15-76 REVIEWER: 372044

ORIGINAL CL BY 005932
☐ DECL ☐ REVW ON 1985
EXT BY [illegible] BY REASON 3B3

Approved For Release 1999/09/02 : CIA-RDP79-01206A000200080005-8

FFD 1953